Workplace Designs lead surveyor has over 20 years experience of building surveys. On-site data is captured using the very latest laser measuring technology and digital photographic equipment. Survey information is quickly transformed into CAD drawings and provided to our clients in the form of electronic files and hard copy prints. WDL have carried out hundreds of surveys of a variety of building types, including commercial, retail, residential, warehousing, technical facilities and laboratories.

WDL produce Land Registry Compliant Lease Plans quickly and efficiently, including Ordnance Survey Location plans and bespoke colouring to match original Lease documents. Many of the UK's largest Property Management companies are using this service to meet their Lease Plan requirements.

The relatively new floors of this building hide behind an impressive façade and are located in one of London's busiest shopping streets. All 10 floors of the building were surveyed from scratch including the numerous retail units at ground level and subsequent storage and car parking facilities in the basement. This building was 1 of a portfolio of 30 that Workplace Designs surveyed over the course of 6 months.
