What we did |

Workplace Designs Limited have been working with Norton Rose Fulbright since 2008 and have supported the day to day design of their UK head-office in 3 More London Riverside, WDL were appointed to work closely with NRF’s Global Property & Facilities Director and key stakeholders to assess the existing working practices and those outlined as part of the company’s overall estate goals, with the aim to develop a new workplace strategy that would foster smarter working, while significantly consolidate their existing foot print. Project 'Fuse' was created to work towards the implementation of smarter working and flexible working practices that could contribute to employee’s wellbeing and performance, enable efficient use of space, and guarantee the generation of revenue and capital savings.
